Run Story by: Skiing Finn

After having hastily but still orderly left A-Site turned out to become the bridgehead of the Thai Army's landing operation last Monday, we headed for a Happy Hour in fully packed vehicles. I sat in the bath taxi besides the bony Wang-King's Wanker who all of a sudden took the opportunity and squeezed out the promise from me to be this week's scribe. What else I could have said except "yes sir". So, here is my "virgin" product as a scribe. Please, try to get on with my Finglish.

We arrived at the scenic, green A-Site on two bath taxis. GM Scar with 2/Ts called the Circle, no virgins, no new shoes. We were altogether 68 hashers. X-mas Dinner on Sunday may have taken its toll and of course, some guys had family obligations. Hares were called to explain the guidelines of the run: no angry dogs, no barbed wire, pay respects for two monks on the way, don't break the "bridge", walkers' trail three km and that of runners' more than double.

The runners' trail was nice and rather easy with lot of loops. There was one steep downhill. I wonder how our female runners negotiated it. Anyhow, they all were fine and fit on arrival at the A-Site. The FRB's, e.g. Cabbage Head, C.Knievel plus some others made the run in less than an hour. As to me one hour and 20 minutes for an old man's slow, safe pace.

VV had again organized a tasty mini-buffet about which everyone enjoyed before the 2nd Circle was called in. Hares iced. GM wondered whose idea it was to have three hares. I missed the explanation or was there any? It was generally agreed that this was a good run almost totally in the nature. Lots of effective work by the Hares. Apparently they used plenty of time for laying the run because my brave countryman Flying Finn seemed sometimes to be at the brink of both physical and mental breakdown.

Bottomless Pit run the Raffle, winners : Bell End, Liberace, Paprika Smiley, Flying Finn, Crack My Coccyx, Knob Marley and IM Lao.

Then Santa Claus made a sudden appearance but to his disappointment there was only one child. The pretty young Swedish lady was also called in for X-mas presents.

VV with his brother Zenergy was iced. When all the Belgians were iced, My Girlfriend knows I'm Gay joyfully joined them. Scar with 2 Ts made a performance with a white T-shirt about the Belgians surrendering in recent wars.

Only one Leaver :Zenergy. Lying Leaver who was No More Gum was called into bucket. G.I.Joe and Skiing Finn iced obviously being color blinded due to some problems with red paper.

Emperor Airhead iced both Knob Marley and his charming lady to whom he gave hash name Big Lungs. No regrets about that

As Flying Finn celebrated about his 70th birthday, R.B. presented his many-sided life-work all around the world incl. active hashing. Well done!!! E.T. iced also. Again I missed the reason.

My Girlfriend Knows I'm Gay was iced for lurid looking running shoes and smelly old socks. Isn't there any shops in Pattaya selling socks?

Hares entertained us by singing with their drunken voices the Hash Song. Good effort led by R.B. The enjoyable evening ended with Hash Hymn. After the more thirsty hashers headed for TQ for more beer and food. Many thanks to TQ!!

Please, forgive me if I have forgotten some important details and made some mistakes about the events.

Merry Christmas to ALL HASHERS !!!! ON ON

Skiing Finn

Drive South passed Lotus entrance for 1.2 Km. Turn left and follow Paradise Villa road all the way to the T-junction 5.2 Km to (HHH). Turn right and drive over bridge and continue between the Wats for 2.3 Km to (HHH). Turn right and drive 300m to the A-site on the right at the base of Monastery Hill.
